Director's Message

Director's Message:

As spring returns and seasons renew, a new era begins. With the first light of the New Year breaking over the horizon, we bid farewell to the challenging year behind us and forge ahead into the hopeful year of 2025. On this occasion of renewal, I would like to extend my heartfelt blessings and gratitude, on behalf of Zhonglun W&D Law Firm, to the leaders, clients, partners, industry colleagues, and friends from all walks of life who have long cared for and supported us, as well as to all our colleagues at Zhonglun W&D Law Firm.

Looking back at 2024, the tides of the era surged relentlessly, with each wave etched with the mission and responsibility demanded by the times. In the face of complex domestic and international circumstances, every member of Zhonglun W&D Law Firm had continued to advance and explore without pause. Through our professionalism, dedication, and focus, we had forged indelible, distinctive memories.

This year, amid a backdrop of sluggish growth and intense competition, Zhonglun W&D Law Firm had bucked the trend, achieving simultaneous increases in both business volume and revenue. By deepening our expertise in traditional sectors such as finance and real estate to tap into hidden opportunities, and by boldly venturing into emerging markets to keenly capture the fresh pulse of economic development, we had proactively positioned ourselves at the forefront of the shifting tides, firmly grasping the initiative in our growth journey.

This year, we bid farewell to the Jintai Building, where we had worked for 21 years, and relocated to the China Central Place – an important milestone that ushers in Zhonglun W&D's new 2.0 era. Our new office not only boasts a high-end design, spacious layout and state-of-the-art facilities, but also embodies the professional aura and human care of Zhonglun W&D Law Firm, attracting visitors from all directions and providing our team with a more comfortable and efficient working environment.

This year, externally, we had frequently been featured in major legal rankings, achieving new records both in the number of awards and awardees. Our exceptional professional expertise, outstanding service performance, and effective brand promotion had garnered us increasing recognition and a sterling reputation. Internally, we had optimized our training system and reinforced professional quality control measures, ensuring zero attrition among partners. We devoted our full efforts to strengthening the firm's internal foundation, aiming to forge an elite team with superb expertise, solid character, and formidable capabilities.

This year, we established a series of effective systems and norms that had reshaped the firm's ecosystem, significantly enhancing cohesion and unity. We not only attracted a diverse cohort of outstanding partners and talented young professionals, but also boosted our team collaboration and operational efficiency across our middle and back offices. Internally, a flourishing culture of mentorship and knowledge sharing had taken hold – fortifying our confidence and laying a solid foundation for pursuing our dreams in the future.

This year, we adhered to the guidance of party building. We actively organized themed Party Day events and collective learning sessions for Party members, regularly reported progress to superior Party organizations to ensure our organizational values stayed directionally aligned. We remained steadfast in our commitment to social responsibilities and the mission of safeguarding the rule of law.

Indeed, we cannot erase the difficulties we have endured this year, but wherever our thoughts and gazes linger, there is the dawn of breaking through the ice. Standing at the threshold of the New Year, the road ahead is filled with infinite possibilities, yet challenges coexist.

Looking ahead to 2025, we remain confident in the face of challenges and uncertainties. The members of Zhonglun W&D Law Firm will continue upholding our original aspirations and stay true to our mission. With renewed passion and rigorous discipline, we will provide even higher-quality legal services to our clients and contribute to building a rule-of-law China. At this moment, the dawn of the new year shines on our shoulders, illuminating not only the passage of time but also our mission and dreams.

Though the dream may be distant, pursuit will bring it within reach; though the wish may be arduous, persistence will make it come true.

May everyone's career in 2025 soar like the wings of a roc, rising straight up; may your life like spring's blooming flowers, rich in fragrance and joy. Once again, I sincerely wish everyone a promising start – your journey through the clouds begins now, and boundless horizons await!
